

SOUND ON

10 PODCASTS FOR A QUARANTINE ESCAPE

THERE'S TRULY A PODCAST FOR EVERY TOPIC UNDER THE SUN. AND WHAT BETTER TIME IS THERE TO FIND A NEW FAVORITE THAN NOW, WHILE WE'RE ALL STAYING IN? WHATEVER YOUR TASTE, THERE'S A 'CAST OUT THERE FOR YOU.

NEWS

THE DAILY

This podcast from the New York Times sums up the biggest news stories of the day in 20 minutes. It comes out daily 6 a.m., so you can kick things off with a cup of coffee and a splash of information.

CORONAVIRUS DAILY

Each day, this NPR podcast gives updates on the coronavirus pandemic and its effects — scientific, economic, and political. Each episode is 10 to 15 minutes.

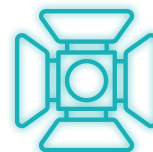

OFFICE LADIES

Missing your work friends? Rewatching The Office for the twelfth time? You're in luck. Jenna Fischer (aka Pam Beesly) and Angela Kinsey (aka Angela Martin) are best friends who met during their time starring on The Office. Each week, they discuss an episode with behind-the-scenes stories and interviews with cast members.

UNSPOOLED

Movie buffs unite! Each episode of this podcast covers a movie from the American Film Institute's Top 100 list, discussed by comedian and film novice Paul Scheer and film critic Amy Nicholson. This is a great time to watch classics you might have missed and learn more about them.

POP CULTURE

KIDS

BRAINS ON!

Your kids can still ace science from the comfort of your home! This podcast from American Public Media is hosted by kid scientists and public radio reporters. Topics include whether plants have feelings, how viruses spread, and more.

THE KIDS ARE ALL...HOME

A new podcast made just for kids in quarantine! Each episode features kids from around the world talking about what they're doing at home and how they're passing their time. Kids can even submit their stories to be featured on the pod!

SPORKFUL

Host Dan Pashman and a guest discuss food – not just recipes, but the science, history, identity, culture and economics of it. Their tagline: “It’s not for foodies, it’s for eaters.”

SNAP JUDGMENT

A musical storytelling podcast that allows you to see the world through other’s perspectives. Hosted by Glynn Washington, each episode tells a new story with music. Ghost stories, travel, mystery, romance, and more!

FAMILY

LEARNING

STUFF YOU SHOULD KNOW

Your kids can still ace science from the comfort of your home! This podcast from American Public Media is hosted by kid scientists and public radio reporters. Topics include whether plants have feelings, how viruses spread, and more.

THIS AMERICAN LIFE

You’ve probably heard of this one! Ira Glass hosts this storytelling program that collects stories and news around a weekly theme. Many aspects of American society are covered, including growing up, different perspectives, and what we all have in common.

LOOKING FOR MORE? SOME BONUS FAVORITES:

LeVar Burton Reads

Remember Reading Rainbow? LeVar Burton is back, reading classic short fiction aloud for your ears to enjoy.

How Did This Get Made?

Love bad movies? These comedians do too, and they break them down with a ton of laughs.

Note that this one is definitely for adults only.

My Favorite Murder

For you true-crime junkies out there: each episode follows a different murder case.

WHERE CAN I FIND THESE PODCASTS?

Listen on
Apple Podcasts

LISTEN ON

Listen on Pocket Casts

Listen on
Google Podcasts